TALK© Additional Module - Research in Clinical Debriefing

This module is only available after completion of the Advanced TALK Instructor Course

Aim: this course aims to foster good research practice including compliance with ethical research principles as well as international research standards.

Criteria: successful completion of the Advanced TALK© instructor course and previous research experience.

Learning objectives: By the end of this course, participants will be able to

- Identify relevant evidence prior to establishing new protocols
- Select and apply suitable instruments to measure the relevant outcomes
- Access TALK©research tools
- Network with the TALK Foundation Research Committee

Duration 7 hours (or 2 sessions of 3.5 hours each) plus post-course assignments.

This module will be facilitated by 2 accredited TALK© educators with extensive research experience.

Successful participants will receive an attendance certificate.

Delegate fees will be tiered according to national income as per current World Bank classification
- High income countries £300 per delegate
- Middle income countries £50 per delegate
- Low income countries £20 per delegate

Course modalities: Virtual / face to face
Virtual:
- Institutional courses can be arranged via email: admin@talkdebrief.org
- Minimum 10 delegates, up to 24 spaces.
- National/international courses will be advertised for registration via website.

Face to face:
- Institutional courses can be arranged via email: admin@talkdebrief.org
- Minimum 10 delegates, up to 24 spaces
- Requirements:
- - AV set-up with screen and sound
- - Computer compatible with PowerPoint and video
- - Catering for participants and facilitators should be provided by the booking institution if required.
- Costs: all delegate fees, local costs derived from the educational activity, plus travelling expenses and accommodation for course facilitators should be covered by the institution and arranged according to local policies.

Any research proposal including the TALK©framework and/or materials must be submitted to the Research Committee of the TALK Foundation (research@talkdebrief.org).
Our team will be happy to support researchers in ensuring that the TALK© ethos and values are adhered to, copyright is not infringed, and the work is carried out abiding by ethical research principles and following international research standards.